TMS Hosts International Interns

Sandy Spring, MD – In an effort to become more diverse, Transportation Management Services (TMS) has been working with an international career development company to host groups of interns from around the world. These interns are given the opportunity to learn in an American business environment and travel around the country.

The interns, native to Serbia, Chile, Ukraine, Macedonia, and Lithuania assist with administrative needs in the TMS headquarters office while in Sandy Spring, MD. They also travel around the country learning the “ins-and-outs” of the transportation business at several of the country’s biggest conventions and tradeshow, where their responsibilities range from escorting convention attendees onto buses to supervising several temporary staff.

The experience has been enlightening not only for the interns, but also for employees at TMS. Chief Executive Officer, Frank Sherman has embraced this program, “The interns have contributed diversity, cultural knowledge and given TMS a fresh international perspective. These young professionals have worked so hard and really learned a great deal about themselves.” Sava Blagojevic truly enjoyed her summer internship at TMS, “I want to thank TMS for the experience we got, all of us were so lucky to work for you and that we met such great people. I am glad that I was matched with TMS and my experience was GREAT!” The TMS office is now filled with pictures of previous interns and many souvenirs and relics from countries around the world.
